

ALLIES UNITE AND GREAT BATTLE DRAWS NEAR

CANNONS BELCH HOT SHOT ALONG BATTLE FRONT IN BELGIUM; BRUSSELS THE GOAL

Brussels, Aug. 15.—The German army 300,000 strong is slowly advancing on the allies about Brussels. The German infantry is very close and in heavy force is moving forward in an effort to envelop the extreme left wing of the army south of Antwerp. It is admitted here that a general attack in force may already be in progress, the officials believing that the German objective is to penetrate the line of allies and to drive the extreme left back on Antwerp. Up to the present the artillery fire of allies army has proven ineffective. The German cavalry advance is checked at least momentarily. The Germans have at least 300,000 men on the front and as many more in reserve.

Brussels, Aug. 15.—Almost continuous cannonading from direction of the front indicated today that a German assault on the Belgian line began at daybreak. Captured German officers frankly admit that German general staff is willing to sacrifice 100,000 men to capture Belgian positions and take Brussels.

The Belgian army heavily reinforced holds a line running from Diest to a point south of Namur. The French and English armies center at Gembloux, 10 miles southeast of Namur. The Germans along the Meuse total 100,000 men.

Captured German officers say that Brussels must be taken at all hazards. This the Belgian staff now considers an impossibility. The government asked that all information regarding the disposition of forces be kept a secret. The king is in supreme command and says that he will die at the head of his troops before he will permit the Germans to take Brussels. The impending battle is said to be the first decisive battle. Belgian officers at large are ordered to blow up forts as soon as they become untenable.

Belgian cavalry assumed the offensive around Tirlemont, driving back a German cavalry column with loss. The war office officially announced that the German loss at Haalen was 3,000 men. A German aviator dropped five bombs at Namur during the night, wounding five persons, three fatally.

SERVIANS BEAT BACK AUSTRIANS

London, Aug. 15.—A dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph Company from Nish, Serbia, says that 400,000 Austrian troops who made a concerted attack last night along the Serbian frontier were repulsed with heavy losses. This is partially confirmed by a dispatch reporting that the Austrians were repulsed at Belgrade and along the Danube, though they succeeded in crossing the river Save after an incessant bombardment and penetrated Shabatz and Losenitz. Shabatz is forty miles west of Belgrade.

German Cruisers Causing Trouble

Paris, Aug. 15.—French and British ships in the Dardanelles have been searched by the cruisers Goeben and Breslau, according to dispatches received here today. This news has increased the indignation of the French government over Turkish action and a crisis has been reached in the relations of the two countries.

It is said that Turkey is now supplying the cruisers with coal and that Turkish torpedo boats are sent outside the Dardanelles and making reports to the German cruisers. The French flag wireless apparatus on the Sighabian were removed.

Panama Locks

Panama, Aug. 15.—United States war department steamship Aucou passed through the locks without a hitch today in 70 minutes. The total lift at the locks is 85 feet.

NEUTRALITY

Washington, Aug. 15.—A general effort is being made by the United States to have the powers of Europe to observe neutrality of all passenger vessels whether belonging to belligerent countries or not.

TENNESSEE IS TO ENTER BREMEN

Washington, Aug. 15.—Germany will permit the cruisers Goeben and Breslau to enter Bremen and will allow trains to bring Americans from the Baltic and resorts south to that port. This statement was so advised to the government.

The Petit Journal of Paris says it learns on "unimpeachable authority" that Japan is resolved to declare war on Germany.

A wireless dispatch from Berlin says that in an interview the Imperial Chancellor represented the war as "a life and death struggle between the Germans and Russians."

Paris declares officially that the Sables Pass over the Vosges mountains has been occupied by French troops.

Grand Duke Nicholas of Russia calls on the Poles to be loyal to Russia and promises them autonomy.

THE WAR AT A GLANCE

ITALY—Italian relations with Austria are strained because of the refusal of Italian government to permit Austria to remove her troops sent to reinforce the Germans across Italian territory.

ENGLAND—Second reserve army being rushed to the field while the first is believed to be in Belgium.

FRANCE—War office insists that the French hold all passes in the Vosges Mountains.

BELGIUM—German columns slowly moving forward toward Brussels. Reserves being massed at Visé.

GERMANY—Censorship remains iron-clad, but messages from Berlin say the city is quiet and the general staff satisfied with the progress of the army.

RUSSIA—Mobilization completed and invasion of Austria well advanced.

AUSTRIA—All information concerning military movements withheld. It is denied that Russia has penetrated much beyond the regular frontier line.

SERBIA and Montenegro—An attempted invasion of Serbia by Austrians is reported repulsed.

GERMANY SERVES A NOTICE

Berlin, Aug. 15.—The German government today notified the governments of France and Belgium that all private citizens interfering with the advance of the German army will be shot. The notification is clothed in the most formal language.

It calls attention to the alleged slaying of German officers by private citizens and declares that Germany has no other defense than to use force.

LINERS SAIL FOR U. S.

Liverpool, Aug. 15.—The sailing from this port today of the St. Louis, the Campanian and the Minnewaska for New York and the Mercantile for Montreal reduced the number of Americans who have been stranded in England by 4,500. The American line steamer St. Paul, from New York, arrived here yesterday.

ACTIVE STEPS MADE TO RELIEVE THE CONDITIONS RESULTING FROM WAR

Washington, Aug. 15.—Active steps to relieve conditions due to the European war affecting the commerce and credit of the United States were being taken today as a result of proposals made at a conference here between prominent business men, President Wilson, Secretary McAdoo and other government officials. The conference was unanimously of the opinion that the pressing questions to be solved were: Restoration of the market for foreign exchange bills, immediate provision for means of transporting American grain, cotton and other merchandise abroad and war risk insurance.

TELEGRAPH LINES ARE DESTROYED

St. Petersburg, Aug. 15.—The Russian general staff today announced that Russian troops have destroyed local railroad and telegraph lines in East Prussia at eleven points between Schmalbaken on the Russian frontier, and Tilsit. German troops also have damaged some of the frontier roads. On Wednesday the Twelfth German rifle regiment accompanied by artillery were discovered on the frontier near Kurlitz by the Russian troops. The Germans avoided coming into contact, retiring to the northwest.

TOURISTS SAFE

Washington, Aug. 15.—Americans may now leave Germany as rapidly as train service is restored. Ambassador Gerard at Berlin reported to state department via Copenhagen today by cable.

PRESIDENT DISAPPROVES LOAN PLAN

Washington, Aug. 15.—President Wilson today formally disapproved of the plan of American bankers floating loans in the United States for the benefit of belligerent countries of Europe, but expressed no objections to loans made to neutral countries.

CELTIC IN PORT WITH AMERICANS

New York, Aug. 15.—Crowded to the very rails with millions and near millions in the steamer, the liner Celtic arrived here from Liverpool with 1600 Americans aboard. The voyage was uneventful, but passengers had stories to tell of lost baggage and of going hungry, although their pockets were bulging with money.

Mrs. Mary Barnes, of Findlay street, continues seriously ill with rheumatism.

FRENCH ARE MAKING SUPREME EFFORTS TO TAKE STRASSBURG

Paris, Aug. 15.—The French have taken the offensive all through the Vosges mountains. Desperate resistance is being encountered but the advance continues.

The war office officials foresee the investment of Strassburg early next week. That is the objective of the French efforts in Alsace. The former capital of Alsace-Lorraine is located at exactly the base desired by the general staff for campaigning into Germany.

While details of fighting are withheld the army holds all passes in the Vosges mountains. In the week's fighting the losses on both sides have been very heavy. Germans are handicapped by the inferiority of their ammunition, but it is known that the Germans are there in force.

Belgium Is Feeding The School Children

Brussels, Aug. 15.—Six thousand school children are being fed daily by the government. Soup is distributed to all schools from a central station. Within a short time it is expected that the number being fed will be increased to 10,000. The soup consists of meat and vegetables. One school has been converted into a government store. Each soldier's wife receives from the government 15 cents a day and 10 cents additional for each child. The women of Belgium are doing everything possible to provide the soldiers in the field with little comforts. Several thousand little handkerchiefs were distributed to the soldiers to protect them from the hot sun.

Deputies Are Shot By Fleeing Bandits

Williamson, W. Va., Aug. 15.—Edward Meads and Sanford Hatfield, members of a posse chasing the bandits who yesterday robbed a paymaster and killed three men at Alum Bluffs, W. Va., were killed today in a fight with robbers at Gilbert Creek. One of the band was wounded. The posse of which Meads and Hatfield were members had followed the gang through the mountains all night and came up with them this morning. The bandits opened fire and the posse replied. One bandit was wounded, but his comrades assisted him to escape. Poses have been searching the mountains.

KING ALBERT POPULAR

Brussels, Aug. 15.—Always popular, King Albert of Belgium is now the idol of his people. Clad in his simple blue uniform he is giving no mark of his exalted rank. He moves from place to place along the front. A chauffeur and an aide are his only escort.

There don't seem to be notices for us plain folks to do right now, but dig down and pay tribute to the food trust, but nevertheless I'd like to get my hands on the guys just once. I'd give 'em a lesson in American patriotism that they'd remember when the next war comes along. I'd like to see 'em raise the price of all the goods. That's more than I'm going to stand. Here's the weather for tomorrow:

Ohio—Fair tonight, warmer in north portion Sunday. Fair and warmer.

Kentucky—Fair tonight and Sunday.

PROGRESS OF WAR AS GLEANED FROM DISPATCHES

"BILLY BUTT IN"

Accept Three Bids And Reject Four

Of seven contracts advertised for letting, at the office of the County Commissioners, Friday, bids on four were rejected, because of the fact that the lowest bid on each was less than the engineer's estimate. Awards were made in the other three jobs.

Calogrove and Purdy of Harrisonville, were awarded the contract for a concrete bridge over McConnell's Creek on the Bennett and Pikeston road near the residence of William Butler in Madison township, while the contracts for building two concrete culverts on the McDaniel road in Madison township were awarded to Jones and Roeg of Harrison township.

AT THE STATE CAPITOL

Columbus, August 15.—Ohio is working simultaneously with the United States government in the probe of the high price of food question but not in direct conjunction. The Ohio probe is being engineered by the department of the state attorney general who has instructed all of the state's special counsel in the various counties to investigate carefully the circumstances surrounding the movement toward high prices and the question of what extent if any the increase has been justified by actual conditions. If it should develop that the increase has been wholly artificial and the result merely of the desire of food producers and dealers to take advantage of the unfortunate war in Europe, the state will proceed to act under both the Valentine and the Collins laws. The Valentine act prohibits agreements or trusts in restraint of trade. The Collins act makes it a penitentiary offense for food dealers to raise prices either by open agreement or by their understanding. It is thought here that the Collins act will be by far the most potent in bringing about a remedying of the conditions since the penalty provided will have a good moral effect. It is figured, even in advance of any actual attempt to enforce the law, the sentiment among state officials is that the quick hoisting of prices is absolutely unwarranted by the necessities of the occasion and that, if there were no desire on the part of producers to profit by the fact of the war, the prices would remain normal. Stores are being told here of the absurd price hoisting of certain articles. Watermelons for example are being sold in Columbus at twice their usual price at this season of the year. The only explanation of the dealers is that there is a war in Europe. These dealers are unable to prove that there is any shortage of watermelons owing to the war or that of the whole sale price has been hoisted. Yet they have doubled the price to the individual buyer.

What Europe Pays Its Fighting Men Compared With United States

The Russian soldier is the most poorly paid in all the world. A private in the ranks of the army of the Czar gets $3.78 a year, compared to $180 to $300 the United States pays its men of the ranks. England pays its private $36.15 a year; France, $20.40; Germany $18.80; Austria, $8.12. Remember, these figures are for a whole year and represent the total amount of cash paid the fighting men in that period.

A Russian Major General gets only $782 a year, or about as much as the United States pays its Sergeant Majors, the highest non-commissioned rank. Our Major Generals get $8,000 a year. The other countries are much more generous with officers of higher rank and pay a minimum of about half the United States standard.

A better example of the Russian contrast is shown in what is paid an officer holding the title of General over there. A Russian General gets $1,272. The United States pays its Second Lieutenants, young fellows just out of West Point, $1,700 a year.

Brussels, Aug. 15.—Hundreds of additional wounded are arriving here. Every hospital and hall is filled. German wounded tell pathetic tales of the slaughter. They declare the German Uhlans have lost heavily in every fight. They attribute the loss to the failure of machine guns to operate as planned.

Brussels, Aug. 15.—German deserters reported that the stubborn defense at Liege has disheartened the German attacking force. It is claimed that in the last fighting three entire regiments were again wiped out by the train of explosives from the forts. German officers made insane in their futile efforts to carry their position jumped into the Meuse river and were drowned.

JAPAN WILL DECLARE WAR ON GERMANY

Paris, Aug. 15.—Japan is resolved to declare war upon Germany, according to the editor of the Petit Journal who claims that his statement is made on the most unimpeachable authority. The editor formerly was minister of foreign affairs.

their agents to withdraw at once. This act is believed to have been ordered by the government and it is thought to mean that a declaration of war will follow.

(Written for the United Press)

With Fashions and Love to fill our minds, Wars and strife and strikes seem petty. So Betty smiles in her blouse of black. And I bask in the smiles of Betty.

New York, August 14.—The black basque plays an important part in the sartorial make up of the dainty mill who follows the Fashions as the black musque in the sartorial make up of the taking person who follows the dark lantern and the jummy.

Black velvet, this newest basque is worn with a fluffy and many bonneted skirt of white or gaudy or tartan. Often the skirt while it has an ungainly foundation breaks out in flounces of ruffles or tulle or chiffon. Delicate or child and sweet pea tints are also used for these skirts as well as the all white and the effect of the truth of many ruffles bursting out below the close smooth of rich black velvet basque is charming enough to compensate for the obvious discomforts of such apparel on a midsummer day.

As a concession to the heat, variations of these basques are shown in developed in either black velvet or black satin but they lack that indescribable air of chic of the velvet brand. Hence they are not much favored by the fashionably dressed who have long since banded to the inexorable mandate of the mode that one cannot be truly smart and comfortable all at the same time.

The velvet basque is always low of neck and long of sleeve, and buttoned either up the front or back with a side button, buttons, or some of them sheer full coats of organdy or a full frill of organdy.

chapeaux of picture proportions are coming to the top again ere long. And yet following the immutable law that everything goes the limit before it changes and things are always worse before they are better, this August crop of wee velvet hats may be in prove the rule that they have only gotten smaller to get larger.

The paradox indeed practices being useful as well as ornamental this season of small hats and even they are now being shown in velvet. So you see the midsummer madness for this rich and luxurious fabric has not only gone to lovely woman's head but over it as well.

There certainly is nothing half way about Fashion and from the extremity of no sleeves at all, or at least none to speak of, the long sleeve is now being the denim or for afternoon and street wear they are absolutely the only permissible sleeves as the total absence of arm covering still fulfills goal for evening toilets. While the velvet and satin basques all show unimpeachable long light sleeves of the same materials long sleeves of these and tulle are very smart in combination with the Silken laces of many of the dresses, little afternoon frocks, of tulle or organdy. The fingered gloves are all showing the long sheer sleeves of velvet and a pretty full is to wear a ring of a ringlet of tulle, or some other small and frilly dowers between the elbow and the shoulder to keep through the eye of the lace or tulle. Bracelet of sparkling jewels are also given a position in like position. Gables that one fair maid is thus enabled to keep up her sleeve.

As a sort of reaction against the midsummer strands of beads, pearls and the bosoms of both lady O'Grady and the Colonel's lady, that latter personage is now going in with pearls and otherwise strings of these human tearlike jewels show to best advantage atop the background of the black velvet basque and contrary to the long accepted doctrine that pearls before breakfast jump, were as bad as pearls before swine, pearls are now being proudly flaunted in the face of tradition and the rose dawn. The present penchant for the chaste pearl has by no means completely done for the beads of many color, however. As both tint headed bands for dress trimming, and as fringe and garnishment on purses and bags of silk and velvet they will fulfill a different but an equally prominent sphere this fall and winter.

GERMANS WILL FIGHT TO THE LAST

(By Karl Von Wiegand)
Rotterdam, Aug. 15.—Germany is prepared to fight until every man capable of bearing arms is alive before surrendering. That is the last word I received when I left the German foreign office in Berlin. The fighting today has cost the German army many men, just how many only the war office knows. Reports of anti-war demonstrations are absolutely untrue. The loss of German men only sought to make the Kaiser the more determined to prevail.

Decision Reserved

Judge Thomas has reserved his decision in the case of Gustav H. Heintzsch against the City of Portsmouth. The case was heard in common pleas court Friday afternoon. The evidence of both sides was all submitted, and the attorneys before adjournment in Friday afternoon. Later, Judge Thomas personally viewed that portion of Galia pike which is in dispute. Heintzsch is seeking to obtain the improvement of the road from the City of Portsmouth. The City of Portsmouth is seeking to obtain the improvement of the road from the City of Portsmouth.

Freight Service For New Boston

Because of the wretched condition of the Gallia pike the Board of Trade will make an effort to have the street railway company inaugurate a freight service on their line until the work of paving the pike is completed.

The directors of the Board of Trade will hold a conference with the street railway officials relative to this matter. An arrangement of this character would prove a great convenience to both Boston south and New Boston business men, as owing to the wretched condition of the pike it is hardly passable.

BIRTHS

A baby was born to Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Smith, of New Boston, on August 10, 1914. The baby is a healthy boy, weighing 10 pounds. The mother and child are both well.

Picking Up Money

Using these columns is pretty much like picking up money on the streets. Walking is small effort, you wear out a little sole leather, the money you pick up is clear gain, if you can't find the owner.

So it is little effort to telephone your "want" to this paper, your carrier will collect the little cost—only 3¢ each word each insertion—and the little ad is altogether likely to get for you what you want.

Miss Dolly Wise

She is here to answer any and all questions concerning love, matrimony, troubles, woes, etiquette, etc. Inquiries should be addressed to Miss Dolly Wise, care The Daily Times, Portsmouth, Ohio.

Dear Miss Wise.—I am in trouble and would like for you to help me. I have a husband and he don't work steady and so I have to keep boarders and I can't make ends meet. Sometimes I think I will just leave for good as my husband drinks up the most he makes, although he makes good wages when he works. He thinks I should pay expenses and let him loaf around a saloon. Now tell me what to do and tell me if there is a way to make him work or else make him leave, and where should I go to have him put on the black list, or advise me if I should do this or not?

BROKEN HEARTED WIFE.
Your circumstances are unfortunate indeed and you have an unhappy lot. Have you not tried to persuade your husband from such actions and do you try to make conditions comfortable and inviting for him at home. I do not advise leaving or divorcing your husband. If what you say is true he has no right to expect you to maintain the household expenses, especially when he is earning a good salary. You suggest blacklisting your husband. Do not take such a step until you have attempted to secure his promise to discontinue his practice of overindulgence in liquor, as it will only antagonize him. If you must take such a recourse you can apply at the county clerk's office and get the information as to what procedure to pursue.

Dear Miss Wise.—Why is a young man visiting his sweetheart like the growth of a successful newspaper?

"SMARTY."
Carry a "Big Ben" with you. That is an old one. His visits commence weekly, grow to be semi-weekly, then become daily with a Sunday supplement.

Dear Miss Wise.—What should a young man do with a young lady's wraps on entering a restaurant?

They may be checked at the cloak room or she can throw her coat over the back of a chair and keep her gloves on her lap. Very often there is an empty chair at the table on which the wraps may be placed.

Dear Miss Wise.—I am a boy 20 years old and going with a girl 18 who is from the city. She says she loves me, but how can I tell? I work in a store for my brother. Is it right for a boy to hug a girl, if he hugs her more?

"WORKING BOY."
Boy, oh boy, how can you doubt that young lady's word. How to

TWO WOMEN AVOID OPERATIONS

By Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Chicago, Ill.—"I must thank you with all my heart for Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I used to go to my doctor for pills and remedies and they did not help me. I had headaches and could not eat, and the doctor told me I had female trouble and must have an operation. I read in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I have taken it and feel fine. A lady said one day, 'Oh, I feel so good all the time and have headaches.' I said, 'Take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound,' and she said she did and feels fine now."—Mrs. M. R. Karschner, 125 N. Paulina Street, Chicago, Illinois.

The Other Case.
Dayton, Ohio.—"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound relieved me of pains in my chest that I had for years and which doctors' medicines failed to relieve. It has certainly saved me from an operation. I will be glad to assist you by a personal letter to any woman in the same condition."—Mrs. J. W. Sherman, 125 Cass St., Dayton, Ohio.

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman, and held in strict confidence.

find out whether she loves you or not is hard to tell. Your own intuition ought to tell you that. No, it is not right to hug a girl—even if he hugs her "nice."

Dear Miss Wise.—Please inform me where to apply for a position as ticket agent or baggage agent on the C. & O. or N. & W.?

For an N. & W. position apply at division headquarters, at the Terminals, see Supt. J. T. Carey. On the C. & O. apply to Supt. Fox, at Ashland, Ky.

Dear Miss Wise.—Can you tell me if Portsmouth has a Lecture Course for the coming season, and if so what are the numbers, and who buys the course?

Was there one here last season, and under what management was it run?

A lecture course is to be conducted under the auspices of the Portsmouth High School, to consist of ten numbers. You can probably get a list of the numbers from Prof. J. D. Creveling. Last year lecture courses were conducted under the auspices of Bigelow church and the Portsmouth High School, but the Bigelow course will be abandoned this year.

Dear Miss Wise.—Do you know of any one who boards lady boarders in Sciotoville? Also of any one there who would want a lady clerk?

"DOUBTFUL."
So far as I am able to learn, there is no boarding house in Sciotoville conducted exclusively for lady boarders. However, you might find a suitable place with a private family. Careful inquiry has failed to reveal an opening for such a clerical position.

Dear Miss Wise.—I go with a young fellow who is just crazy about me. He gets mad if I speak to any of my boy friends. There are other boys I like better than I do him. What shall I do?

M. H.
Why, choose the one you like the best, and be true to him, not to the others.

Dear Miss Wise.—Won't you please give me your kind advice? My plight is: My true lover, to whom I pledged my truth two years ago, and was to marry soon, has changed toward me, almost week before we were to go to the altar. Because I pouted when wanting my say he told mother I was saucy and would not be desirable as a wife. I love him dearly. Please answer.

Unless he has had some great reason to change his mind, regarding you, which I doubt, he is more nice than wise. Do not pay much attention to his grouchy mood and he will be ashamed of himself and repent.

Dear Miss Wise.—Is there a man in the county that gives Ford automobiles for coins, such as nickels and dimes having the words F. O. R. D. on some of them?

INQUISITIVE.
No. If the party signing himself "Reader" from Buena Vista, will send me his address, I will send a copy of The Times containing an account of Frank B. Willis' life.

Dear Miss Wise.—What do you think of a widower of thirty-five who kept company with me more than a year and a half, then got up excuses of his not being well enough off to marry for a few years, and when away quietly wed another and furnished a small cottage for her. He is a book keeper. I am twenty-six years—she is under twenty. I wasted my time and bestowed sympathy for another to get him.

HEARTSICK.
It is hard to believe a man could be so heartless, yet you were intended for a better man. Strive to forget him, and "merry wedding bells" will soon be yours.

Dear Miss Wise.—I am a young man twenty-six having kept company steadily with a very good looking girl of nineteen for over a year. I have not exactly proposed to her outright, in words, but have given her costly gifts, on holidays and birthdays. Humor has it she is about to jilt me for another.

If so, is she not obliged to return me my gifts? I can hardly live without her.

You have had what is usual with most all lovers, in my opinion, a lovers' quarrel. Patch it up, if this is the case, and win back your girl and the presents.

CRITICAL REVIEW OF EUROPEAN WAR

(By Major Louis F. Korth, Former Editor of The Correspondent.)

Thursday, August 13, 1914.
It is only two weeks since Russia, Germany, Austria and France, and their mobilized troops in motion, England following, and already we have seen more blood than in many a long campaign of former wars. In the Franco-German war of 1870 and 1871, the first engagement, at Sarrebrücken, occurred fifteen days after the declaration of war, this time it came much quicker.

What has taken place so far shows what plans of campaign the German General Staff has outlined, subject to necessary changes of course. To evade the very strongly fortified French borderland and the mountain passes in the Vosges, a short cut through Belgium was taken, which on account of her secret military convention with France is considered an enemy of Germany, and the army of the Meuse, the first under arms, advanced in three parallel columns through Belgium-Luxembourg and Luxembourg, from the lower Rhine to the Meuse (Maas) and Orléans.

The most northern column, coming from Aachen (Aix-la-Chapelle), the 10 corps in the van, after a week of bloody fighting has taken the strongly fortified city of Liege in Southern Belgium, an important strategic point. It consists mainly of Hanoverians and Brunswickers, whose grandfathers formed a large part of General Wellington's army at Waterloo. However then being an English dependency from where the Guelders, the royal family of Great Britain, has come, (and by the way the Anglo-Saxons six hundred centuries before.) To-day they will have to fight their old friends and masters.

The capture of Liege was an important victory for the Germans, as it opened to them the gates to Brussels, the capital of Belgium, but although quickly won it was bought very dearly. They did not creep in through a hole at night, as we are to believe, but had to take some commanding fortifications, with the bayonet, their artillery being insufficient for the purpose, merely aiding them, and were mowed down by the thousands. The losses were so terrific that the emperor ordered a halt of the storming, as the object of the attack, to protect rear, and flanks of the advancing forces, had been accomplished. This is the strategic importance of the first victory of the Germans, its moral value has manifested itself by an unbounded enthusiasm in all parts of Germany.

By last reports the army of the Meuse is operating to the north-west of Liege, not southwest toward Namur. The plans have been changed, it seems, to meet new conditions created by the landing of an English corps at Ostend and Antwerp and the advance of the combined English and French armies from that direction. They are rushing to the support of the hard-pressed Belgians, hemmed in between the two German columns, converging toward Louvain, whose cavalry has already blown up bridges and roads in their back.

The probabilities are that a big, maybe a decisive battle will take place in the next days in that historical part of old Belgium, which will recover Brussels and Paris, only 100 miles away that is—if the Germans should win. Several severe engagements have already taken place at Tongres and Tirlemont, in which mostly German cavalry were the attackers, being in advance, and latest reports from Brussels speak of a battle of Hasten and Diest on the Scheldt. At Antwerp R. K., which shows that the Germans have already advanced well into the heart of Belgium.

While these operations in Belgium are going on no less important ones are taking place in the Alsace valley, where German and French have met again on the old-time battlefields.

The French advanced from Belfort, between Jura and Vosges mountains, where Bourbaki made his last stand before crossing into Switzerland in 1871, by way of Munster and Altkirch, and occupied Muelhausen on the Rhine-Rhone Canal, according to German advice with a large force, said to have numbered some 50,000 men.

The German garrison retired to the fortress Neu Breisach in Baden, but on the next day returned with the entire 14 army corps, which drove the French back again behind the town after a sharp engagement at Lagarde, in which it made about a thousand prisoners and took a battery of four guns. This second victory is made much of in Germany, especially in Baden, whose troops were mainly engaged, and is called the Weissburg of 1914, as it is the initial battle with the French.

It is evident that General Goffre, the chief commander of the French army, who has established his headquarters at Belfort, intends to follow up his unsuccessful attempt with a general advance, provided the Germans give him the chance, as he counts upon a friendly meeting and assistance by the people in that part of Alsace. May be it is for this reason that the Austrian supports two corps of 40,000 men, all Germans from Salzburg and Tyrol, which came over the Lake of Constance to Freiburg, were directed that way.

The Germans of Austria and those of the Empire, the foci of 1866, will soon fight side by side, either near Strassburg in Alsace, or Metz in Lorraine, where the Germans have also concentrated a large army to co-operate with those in Belgium and on the Rhine, called the army of the Mosel. The advance corps crossed at Longwy, a fortified French border town in the department Meurthe et Moselle, after repulsing the opposing force and making some eight hundred prisoners. It has arrived at Pont-a-Mousson, which is now under bombardment. At Spioncourt also a bloody cavalry engagement has taken place.

The following program will be given by the River City band at Millbrook park Sunday evening:
March—Grandioso. Seitz.

Fired On Prowler

For several nights W. E. Harris, who lives on Sixth street, has noticed a prowler around his home. When Mr. Harris returned home Friday evening he saw the same man in his rear yard.

Getting his revolver, he started after the stranger, but he was too fast of foot and got away. Harris fired two shots in the air, he says, to scare the man.

ry engagement has taken place. The mobilization of the Russian army will not be completed before the end of next week. The Russians are slow movers, while the Austro-Hungarians and the Germans, the latter in six corps of the line and two corps of reservists, are in battle-array all along the frontiers of Prussia and Galicia (Austria) and have had some sharp fighting with the Russians in Russia-Poland, probably reconnaissance of their cavalry. This led to the belief that they were on a big onward movement to Warsaw, but it looks now as if they are to remain on the defensive until the campaign on the western seat of war is finished.

In the Gulf of Finland, however, the German Baltic fleet is active and the landing of a German force at Helsinki is expected as soon as the fleet has opened the way. Very little about the operations is known, except the bombardment of Viborg, Reval and Swaborg by the German fleet. The financial and economic situation in Germany is said to be satisfactory, the banks, the Reichsbank in Berlin leading, are readily meeting all demands of government and people, while France is already negotiating a loan of 300 million dollars in New York, a drop in the bucket if the war should last only six months. The German people are willing to bring every sacrifice, well knowing that if the Kossacks come into the country they will take all they have, and general ruin would follow. The harvest is being garnered by the old men, the women and the Jugendwehr, Germany's boy scouts, young princes and noblemen on their estates working side by side with the peasants. All Germany has risen.

A Cobblestone, Brick and Shingle Combination—By John Henry Newsom.

"Home of Character, No. 105-D"

In this adaptation of our original No. 105 field stone has been used for the spur walls to the steps and the foundation to the porch, while brick has been used for the balance of the chimney. The side walls are in shingles, as also the roof.

The vestibule and fireplace alcove are provided in this plan and the stair and kitchen arrangement is the same as No. 105 G, while the second floor plan will fit either of the two plans.

Variations in bathroom, side porch and storage room as indicated on No. 105 A and B can be made at option of purchaser.

This house should be built with a good grade of plumbing fixtures, good furnace and first-class material and workmanship throughout for about $3000.

The illustration shows the house with floor plan reversed. Plans can be had of any design reversed and desired features incorporated from any of the No. 105 series, in the design selected. For further information, address John Henry Newsom, HOMES OF CHARACTER DEPT., The Times.

Hot Weather Troubles

In some parts of Russia the snow comes down like yellow gold. In this country it waits until it strikes the earth before making the transformation.

When it comes to rising above its environment, nothing can outshine the cream in a milk bottle on the porch in zero weather.

For warming the feet a foot rail for steam radiators has been invented. It might also serve to give the home that extra atmosphere to help keep some men home in the evening.

Patron at a local restaurant:
"Here, waiter, what's the matter with the coffee?"
Waiter: "That coffee ain't coffee. You're drinking water fresh from the Ohio river."

He Didn't Mean That

Doctor: "Well, Mr. Jones, how are you feeling this morning?"
Mr. Jones: "Very much better, thank you, doctor. The only thing that troubles me is my breath."

Doctor: "Um—yes, we must see if we can't get something to stop that."—Chicago News.

False Alarm

Belle (slyly): "I noticed a perceptible coldness between George and Maria this evening as they sat at a table in the tea room."
Nelly (cheerfully): "Was it a quarrel?"

Belle: "Oh, no. It was a pink ice cream."—Baltimore American.

His left eye was badly discolored and swollen to twice its normal size, and his nose was almost torn from his head. While his head and face were covered with bruises and bumps where he had been hit, Jackson's fists had taken effect on the hood of the car. Jackson was uninjured.

New Civil Service Law Now In Effect

City Auditor George Galdeman has called the attention of the Civil Service Commission to the fact that the Civil Service Law, enacted at the 1913 session of the General Assembly, went into effect August 1, 1914. The provisions of the new law are of a drastic nature, and absolutely prohibit the drawing of a salary warrant until the service for which it is paid has been certified by the City Civil Service Commission as having been rendered in conformity with the provisions of the law.

No salary vouchers will be approved by the city auditor where the provisions of the law are not thoroughly adhered to. This prompted John Wurster and Jasper Newmann, the two members of the commission in session Friday evening to grade the papers of those who have taken the examination within the past month in order that their salaries would not be held up.

Was Man Created For Heaven

SUBJECT OF FREE LECTURE BY I. B. S. A.

IN TEMPLE THEATRE ELEVENTH STREET

SUNDAY, AUG. 16TH

AT 2:30 P. M.

SPEAKER WILL BE

J. F. Emerson Of New York

How is this subject generally handled today?

Have we been mistaken in thinking man went to his eternal destiny at death? When Adam was placed in the Garden of Eden was he promised a home in Heaven if he obeyed God? What promises were held out in the Old Testament to men for Heaven-ly or earth-ly? Was the great promise given to Abraham of Earth-ly or Heaven-ly nature? These are questions the scripture answer very plainly and can be easily understood when properly placed before us. Mr. Emerson is an efficient Bible teacher and handles his subjects in a masterly way. Hear him on Sunday is FREE. All welcome.

MR. HOWLAND HONORED AT BIG CHAUTAUQUA

Charles M. Howland and wife, who have been spending a two weeks vacation with his parents in Brown County, returned to Portsmouth Saturday morning. Mr. Howland had quite an honor conferred upon him at the Brown County Chautauque last Sunday, when he was placed in complete charge of the religious work of the chautauque. He acquitted himself admirably of course. Mr. Howland's reputation as an expert Sunday school man had preceded him and at the close of his work, he was warmly congratulated upon the way he handled his work. Of course, last no opportunities in telling of the Sunday school work in Portsmouth and of his connection with the First Christian Bible school of which he is the official head.

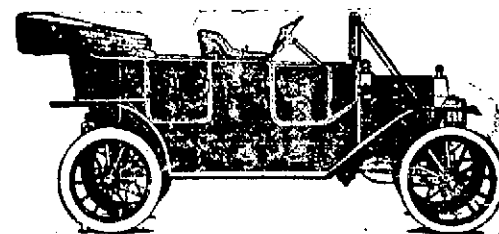

He announced Saturday, that he gained several new ideas, and will be glad to exhibit them at the First Christian tomorrow morning when he expects the attendance to show a healthy increase.

He comes back home imbued with new energy and ready to jump in to the campaign with more vim and pepper than ever. That being the case, something is bound to break loose tomorrow.
